John Paul's music career began as a child singing and playing music in his father's church in Oklahoma. During these years he learned to play several instruments and began writing and arranging musical events. Although he plays nearly all band instruments, John's specialty is Brass, Piano, Keyboard. After graduation from high school, John Paul moved to Santa Cruz, Ca where he studied in Choral and Instrumental Music Arranging and Conducting. After college, John directed music in a variety of churches for 20 years, also working with Audrey Myers and various other professional artists.
